KENYON ACADEMIC PARTNERSHIP (KAP) AMERICAN GOVERNMENT COURSE SYLLABUS 2017-2018

Buckeye Valley High School 740/363-1349

Mrs. Velalis velalis.2@osu.edu

Conference Period 8:36 a.m. - 9:26 a.m. 10:58 a.m. - 11:48a.m.

COURSE DESCRIPTION:

The emphasis of the KAP American Government course is a concentration of the government's role in influencing the social structure of the nation and our understanding of the American political system. The themes of democracy and the scope of government provide a basis framework for analysis that students will find practical and worthwhile. Extensive study will be made of the US Constitution, political parties, government policy, the framework of government and the traditions and the values of American politics. We will examine in detail the processes and institutions through which the political system functions as well as some of the public policies the political system develops. Students will also learn concepts of financial literacy, including the relationship of income level to supply and demand in the market, the roles of people in the economy, consequences of choices affecting budgets, savings, credit, philanthropy, and investments, and the effect of interest rates on savers and borrowers. This course will involve critical analysis, writing, and discussion of the assigned texts and is designed to create good citizens, who are knowledgeable and active in their government. To receive Kenyon college credit a student must receive a letter grade of "C" or better.

TEXTBOOK AND READING MATERIALS:

Text: Government in America - People, Politics, and Policy (2002 Edition) by George C. Edwards III, Martin P. Wattenberg, Robert L. Lineberry. PRIMARY TEXTBOOK

Summer Reading: Hardball, How Politics is Played Told by One Who Know the Game by Chris Matthew

Supplemental Reading: The Federalist Papers by Hamilton, Jay, Madison

(will be studied throughout the year)

Democracy in America by Alexis de Tocqueville

Congress - The Electoral Connection by David R. Mayhew

Elections of 2016 by Michael Nelson

Presidential Powers and the Modern President by Richard E. Neustadt The Supreme Court and Constitutional Democracy by John Agresto Notes of Debates in the Federal Convention of 1787 by James Madison

The Founders' Constitution, Volume I Major Themes edited by Philip B. Kurland

& Ralph Lerner

Constitution of the United States

Supreme Court Cases

School library resources will also be used.

Miscellaneous articles collected and presented by your teacher throughout the year.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS:

Textbook reading
Additional required reading
Taking notes
Daily Participation
Follow-up questions
Vocabulary and identification words
Study Guide

Tests
Comprehensive Final Exam
Small group work
(involving teamwork, cooperation, and creativity)
Large-scale group projects
Writing papers(includes written responses to videos shown)

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY:

Academic dishonesty is considered a serious offense and will involve parents being notified each time a violation is reported to a principal. Academic dishonesty and plagiarism occur in many situations and will absolutely NOT be tolerated. Academic dishonesty includes but is not limited to unauthorized copying any section of any assignment or assessment. (Both the individual "copying" homework AND THE STUDENT WHO GIVES ANOTHER THEIR COMPLETED HOMEWORK are considered to be in violation). Plagiarism, improper or illegal downloading of information from the Internet, CD ROM programs, and any misrepresentation of work not completed by the student is also considered academic dishonesty and consequences will be strictly enforced. Consequences will be a failing grade for the assignment or assessment and may include detention, Wednesday school, reverse suspension, or out-of-school suspension. Repeat violations of academic dishonesty individually and collectively may result in a failing grade for the quarter and/or removal from the class for the year with a failing grade. Consequences will be strictly enforced. Honesty is essential!

COURSE SEQUENCE BY SEMESTER:

First Semester

Introducing Government in America
The Constitution
Civil Rights and Public Policy
Public Opinion and Political Action
The Mass Media and the Political Agenda
When covering Chapter 9 and 10 students will begin reading El	•
Political Parties	Chapter 8
Interest Groups
Nominations and Campaigns	-
Elections and Voting Behavior
When covering Chapter 13 students will begin reading Presiden	-
President by Richard Neustadt
The Presidency
Constitution - Article II, Sections 1-4	-

^{}First Semester Project: Select and research an executive policy and behavior during a recent presidential "crisis". Paper will be 5-10 pages with a reference page and a 5-8 minute PowerPoint "executive summary" presented in class.

Second Semester

Students will also read Democracy in America by Alexis de Tocqueville
Federalism
Constitution - Article I, Sections 8-10
The Congress, The President, and the Budget: The Politics of Taxing and Spending
The Federal Reserve Bank Teacher SupplementalsTeacher Supplementals
When covering Chapter 12 students will begin reading Congress - The Electoral Connection by David R.
Mayhew
Congress
Constitution - Article I, Sections 1-10
Civil Liberties and Public Policy
Constitution - Amendments 1-27
When covering Chapter 16 students will begin to read The Supreme Court and Constitutional Democracy
by John Agresto
The Federal Courts
Constitution - Article III, Sections 1-3
Constitution - Articles IV-VII
The Face of State and Local Government

Federalist Papers by Hamilton, Jay, Madison These will be read and discussed throughout the year.

If time permits:

Second Semester Project: Each student must choose and complete one major project. Legislative: Select and research the legislative history of a major public policy issue OR Judicial: Select and research recent Supreme Court decisions on a major issue. Paper will be 5-10 pages with bibliography and a 5-8 minute PowerPoint "executive summary" presented in class.

HOMEWORK:

Textbook and supplemental readings, follow-up questions, study guide worksheets, writing papers, etc. will be assigned each week.

You will be required to submit by August 1st a paper regarding your required summer reading assignment. You will also be writing papers on different themes discussed in class as well as various reflections on assigned readings.

IN-CLASS ACTIVITIES:

You may be required to work in small groups and complete long-term assignments from time to time. These will involve teamwork, cooperation, and creativity on your part. Large-scale projects may be worth as much as test grades and will often involve doing outside research activities for completion.

FINAL EXAM:

You will be required to take your final. At the end of the course, you will be given a COMPREHENSIVE exam. In order to successfully receive college credit you must have a C as a final grade.

Please realize that I do not GIVE grades....YOU must earn them. I am always willing to help you with questions, problems, assignments, etc. I truly value your opinions and hope that you share them with me.